OCTOBER 2025

THE SHELBY PRES (S)

Published monthly by Shelby Presbyterian Church

Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

A poll last month found that nearly 95 percent of Americans are concerned by an apparent rise in political violence, a growing divide, and increasingly toxic rhetoric. This alarm led some to make end-times predictions as we remain shocked by recent events.

However, we are still here. What's more, the whole of scripture points to our God coming down into the mess of human life. We need only to look at the Lord's Prayer – "your will be done on earth as it is heaven" – and at the very incarnation of Jesus himself to see this. Yet, like the Psalmist, we wonder – "How long O Lord?"

So then, the question is this: How shall we live? How do we respond?

As Christians, our faith is in the Lordship of Jesus who reigns over all of creation and is with us by the presence of the Holy Spirit in and among us. Jesus told his disciples they would be scattered and face tribulation, but he said, "Be brave. I have overcome the world."

Scripture says a great cloud of witnesses have come before us and that the gates of hell, or death itself, will not prevail over the church – the witnesses past and present. Yes, churches close, but the capital "C" Church remains. Our job is to be faithful to King Jesus, and trust that nothing can separate us from the love of God in him.

We must resist the urge to "protect" God, who is our protector. This is not faith. Our calling is to be faithful to the person, work and example of Christ, who saves us by the self-giving love of God. God is working all around us in self-giving love, and we are called not to compete with the world, but to participate in its reconciliation.

Jesus has already won the victory. The world wants us to compete with the world in culture wars because then we will play its game of hating our enemies, loving only those who love us, and putting first our in-group's safety, belonging and purpose.

The way of Jesus is the confidence that we are already safe in his arms, we belong to him, and our purpose is to love one another as he has loved us. Trusting his love and our salvation, we can choose the love that casts out fear, even loving our enemies. We can invest in the Kingdom of God above the priorities of this world because the Spirit of God is in and among us, revealing God in every generous act of self-giving love.

Montreat - Linked by Love

What a weekend we shared together in Montreat! From the one-year-old to the joyful 90-year-old, our whole church family came together for laughter, worship, play, and connection. Everywhere you looked, there was something to smile about—kids splashing and stomping in the creek, folks gathered around tables puzzling and playing games, groups cheering during chair volleyball, softball and kickball, and families enjoying hikes in the mountains. The joy of being together was unmistakable.

Our theme, Linked by Love, was not just something we talked about—it was something we lived. One person shared, “I am so blessed to have a church family willing to spend this time together.” That blessing could be seen in the way children, parents, grandparents, and friends from every generation found themselves linked together in laughter and fellowship. Another reflected, “I enjoyed getting to know folks I only knew by face.” Those casual moments—playing a game, walking a trail, or simply sharing a meal—turned acquaintances into friends.

For many families, the retreat was more than a getaway – it was a time of renewal. One family told us, “It was a joy for the whole family unit. We formed deeper bonds with church members and left spiritually rejuvenated.” Another said, “I love the welcoming environment and how intergenerational all the activities are—a great way to get to know people.” That’s the beauty of Montreat: all ages under one roof, growing closer to one another and to Christ.

Of course, none of this would have been possible without the hard work and dedication of so many who planned, prayed, and prepared for our time away. And we are especially grateful for the Lacey Fund for Montreat, which Morris and Mabel Lacey set up to help subsidize the cost, and made the retreat affordable for many families. After four years, that fund is nearly depleted, however, and we hope that if you are able to give to this fund, you will do so. Your generosity ensures that retreats like this remain a blessing for everyone in our church family.

As we drove away from Montreat, our hearts were full. We came as individuals and families, but we left reminded of the ties that hold us together. Truly, we are a people linked by love – God’s love for us all.

KITCHEN RENOVATION PROJECT TO START THIS MONTH!

Upgrades to Kitchen, Ellis Hall, and Harrill House Will Benefit SPC Ministries, including Food Ministry, Fellowship

Session has approved a renovation project that will upgrade the SPC kitchen, with work set to begin this month and be completed by the end of January.

Part of the kitchen will extend into Ellis Hall with a serving station to ease congestion and add storage. Together with new cabinets, floors, walls, and mechanical upgrades, this project will benefit nearly all church ministries, but especially Food Ministry and Fellowship.

The Dover Foundation has given $30,000 to the project and Session voted to use $80,000 from the Cornerstone Endowment, plus recently-awarded payroll tax refunds. While this should cover most of the estimated project cost, if you have it on your heart to donate toward the project over and above your general pledge and offerings, there will also be a fund set up for the project.

In 2021, Session purchased a new stove, and earlier this year, the exhaust hood motor was replaced.

Construction will close the kitchen and half of Ellis Hall. Food Ministry will distribute food from out of the Harrill House and they are working on gaining access to a commercial kitchen to continue preparing meals.

In memory of John Knox Presbyterian Church, which SPC helped start in 1957 and which closed in 2022, some of John Knox's former members asked the Presbytery of Western NC to fund climate controlled storage for the Food Ministry. Agreeing to this request, SPC received $30,000 from the sale of their building and a $10,000 Daily Change grant (formerly 5-cents-a-meal).

This paid for HVAC units, insulation, electrical repairs, basement encapsulation, and more. This will protect the quality of the food stored in the house and improve working conditions for volunteers.

Together, these projects continue SPC's commitment to feeding the hungry and sharing in a common life.

OCTOBER UPDATE

Cleveland County Habitat for Humanity is holding its first major fund-raising event called

The Habitat Builders' Ball

Saturday evening, October 18 – 6:00 pm

The LeGrand Center at Cleveland Community College

All proceeds from the sale of $150 tickets per person will support our local Habitat mission. Tickets may be purchased at the Affiliate website, <https://www.habitatforhumanitycc.com/>

If you prefer to pay in person, please do so at the Habitat for Humanity Cleveland County ReStore at 323 W Grover St. Shelby, NC 28150. (Get your tickets before October 1st since after that date tickets will be $175 per person.) In addition to sharing the Cleveland Co Habitat story through video testimonials, the evening will feature dinner and dancing with a live band.

Starting October 1st there will be a silent online auction to include donated items from many local artists and vendors (visit the Affiliate website.) Several from our own Shelby Presbyterian Church family include:

Paul Couey has donated three framed paintings.

Susan Bell has donated one of her paintings.

Ben Brooks has given four of his own framed photographs for sale.

Lynsie Stevens and her family are offering a one-night stay at Opal and West Bed and Breakfast (the morning meal cooked by Lynsie herself!)

Richard Hart has provided three wood projects including a live edge, black walnut and oak end table; a restored elementary school desk made in Hickory, NC; and a re-purposed chair called "Tea Party."

These items will also be on display at the Builders' Ball event (although you do not have to be present at the event as online bidding will begin on October 1st and end at the event itself on October 18th.)

Please see Debbie or Richard Hart, Bill or Gloria Jobe, or Bill or Tonda Christian for more information.

Thank You

FROM MRS. AUTEN

I would like to extend heartfelt thanks to my church family for the many ways you surrounded us with love and care during John's illness and following his passing to eternal life. Your prayers, visits, meals, cards, and kind words carried me through some of the hardest days. The family felt the strength of your faith and compassion in every gesture, both big and small. It is a deep comfort that we do not walk this journey alone, but with the embrace of a loving church family.

-Margie Auten

SPC Reports & Minutes

SESSION MEETING MINUTES – August 19, 2025

COMMUNICATIONS

Clerk – Tom Martin: gift acknowledgement from Black Mountain Home for Children
Diaconate Report: Michelle Moser: We had a successful Rally Day; nearly all active Deacons are attending the retreat in Montreat, so she will ask Miranda to send an email requesting volunteers to usher and count offering that Sunday.

Pastor: Drew Mangione: Been here 4 years! Peter Moore, choral scholar shared in his exit interview that he was impressed that SPC members acted like those of a family church but invited him, an outsider, to do all sorts of things as if he was a member, which is uncommon. Likewise, Drew shares his admiration of our membership embracing him, Carol Ann, Emily, and so many new members and welcoming their contributions in all aspects of SPC community. Drew is really grateful to be here!

ONLINE VOTES & MINUTES – both approved unanimously

COMMITTEES

Finance: Drew—we now have possession of the Cribb Fund, value of which is more than anticipated. The monthly statement shows that while behind on giving, it is less than what is typical at this time of the year and spending is under control.

Update–Worship & Music Committee’s request for money from the Cribb Fund was amended because the AC for the choir and bell rooms has died. Finance recommends withdrawing $17,500 for stated music needs and to install 2 mini-split units. Approved unanimously.

Property: Bill Jobe – the attic behind the resource room has been cleared for insulation. Miller Condrey will begin installing mini-split units in Harrill House. Ice maker was cleaned today and added to an annual schedule. Quote obtained for a water filter for it. They determined that the unit in the kitchen is actually a dishwasher that needs repair. Kitchen renovation bid requests have been sent. Bids due 8/28. Ideally work will be done between 10/6 and 12/31. Special session meeting may be called to address bids. Carport project in progress. Carpets to be cleaned Friday. New janitorial service, Sparkles, started Monday. F3 classroom will be locked when not in use due to mobile keyboards stored inside. Today was Scott’s one-year anniversary. Leak in Scout section of Harrill House has been addressed.

STEWARDSHIP UPDATE

It’s that time of year again, when SPC committees and staff start building next year’s budget. As a part of this process, we sent pledge letters late last month by mail. If you did not receive one, let Miranda know.

Your prayer, service, and financial gifts make everything at SPC possible. As a community, our collective action in the life of the church demonstrates our faith and witnesses to God’s actions.

The packet asks you to commit to prayer, to consider ways you can get involved, and to make a giving pledge for 2026. Everything SPC does for the Kingdom of God is the work of all of us together, giving in the ways we are able.

Please be on the look out for your pledge packet in your mailbox. Please pray, please let us know the ways you want to get involved, and please consider what you might be able to pledge in support of SPC. (Remember that what you give is between you and God and is kept confidential by Miranda.)

Consecration Sunday is Oct.19th – and we hope you will join the celebration at SPC’s annual picnic at 3:30 pm at the home of Larry and Kathy Wilson. Bring a dish to share and come enjoy great fellowship and delicious fried chicken.

Making your pledge on or before October 19th, will help provide an accurate estimate for a responsible budget. Thank you in advance and see you at the picnic!
